NEW MEDICINE!

THE GREATEST SUCCESS OF THE AGE!!!
NO MORE COD-LIVER OIL. SYRUP OF IODIZED HORSE-RADISH of GRIMAULT and Co., Apothecaries and chemists, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris. According to the certificates of the physicians of the Paris Hospitals, details of the preparation and with the approbation of several Academies, this Syrup is employed with the greatest success in place of Cod-liver Oil, to which it is really superior. It cures diseases of the chest, scrofula, lymphatic disorders, green sickness, muscular atony, and loss of appetite, at regenerates the constitution by purifying the blood, and is, in a word the most powerful depurative known. It never fatigues the stomach and bowels like the iodids of potassium and the iodide of iron, and is administered with the greatest efficacy to young children subject to humours, or obstruction of the glands. Dr. CAZENAVE, of Saint Louis hospital, Paris, recommends it particularly in cutaneous diseases conjointly with the dills which bear his name.
PHOSPHATE OF IRON, DE LERAC, apotheca-ry, doctor of science, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris.—This new ferruginous medicine contains the elements of the bones and blood, and iron in a liquid state. From observations made in the above hospitals and detailed in the prospectus, it is superior to ferruginous pills, lactate of iron, iron reduced by hydrogen, pills and syrup of the iodids of iron, and cures rapidly; stomach complaints, painful digestion, poverty of the blood, loss of strength and appetite, and the diseases incident to females. It is the best educt to Cod-Liver Oil, and the best preserver health in tropical climates.
ELIXIR OF PEPSINE prepared by GRIMAULT and Co., chemists, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris, according to the formula of Dr. CORVISART, knight of the Legion of Honour, physician to H.M. the Emperor of the French. PEPSINE is the gastric juice itself, or rather the digestive principle purified, which digests food in the stomach. When from various causes the supply of the digestive fluid is too small, the inevitable consequences are bad digestion, gastritis, gastralgia, inflammation of the mucous coats of the stomach, and bowels, heartburn, anæmia, loss of strength, and in females, general derangement. The elixir of Pepsine, which is sanctioned by the approbation of the Paris Academy of Medicine, speedily cures all such diseases, and prevents vomiting during pregnancy.
INTERNAL OR LOCAL
NEW CURATIVE AGENT.
MATICO.
GRIMAULT & Co., PARIS.
THIS new remedy is prepared from the leaves of a Peruvian pepper shrub, called Matico, and CURES PROMPTLY and INFALLIBLY without any fear of inflammatory results. The great majority of Physicians in Paris, Prussia, Germany, and New York, now use no other remedy. Full Directions accompany each Bottle and Packet; or an explanatory treatise will be sent post free for 6d.
General Depots:
In Paris,—at GRIMAULT & Co.'s Chemists, 7, Rue de la Feuillade.
In London,—at NEWBERY & SONS, 45, St. Paul's Churchyard.
In Hongkong,—at IGNACIO QUADROS, French Dispensary.
In Shanghai,—at JOHN LLEWELLEN & Co. and at all good Druggists in India.

DR. HASSALL, the great Analytical Chemist states in the Lancet, of February 27th, 1854 and in his Work on Food and its Adulterations with reference to the Food Products chemically and microscopically examined by him:
"The Samples of Messrs. CROSSE & BLACKWELL were entirely free from Copper."
CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S.
Manufactures, which from their great superiority have become so universally celebrated, are obtainable from every respectable Provision Dealer in all parts of the world. Purchasers should insist upon having C. & B.'s genuine articles when they ask for them, as it is not unusual for unscrupulous dealers to substitute inferior preparations.
C. & B. invite special attention to the following the quality of which is of the highest standard attainable.
PICKLES prepared in pure malt vinegar.
BOTTLED FRUITS for Tarts Puddings, &c.
JAMS and JELLIES, Marmalade, Fruits, Syrup, Crystalized Fruits, Prepared Calf's-feet and other table Jellies: Vanilla and other Creams.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK OF INDIA.

THIS Company has been formed for the purpose of purchasing a site in the Colony of Hongkong for Docks and constructing Docks and erecting suitable Premises thereon for carrying on the Business of Building or Docking and Repairing Steamers and Sailing Vessels, and for the purchase of the Docks now owned and carried on at Whampoa by Messrs. T. HUNT & Co. with the Appurtenances Plant and Good-will of the Docking Business of that Firm.

It is proposed to register, the Company as one of Limited Liability either under the Imperial Act or under any Ordinance which the local Legislature may pass enabling local Companies to do so, the property of the Company in the meantime being vested in the Trustees, and the Deed of Settlement of the Company, now in course of preparation, is being framed in accordance with this intention.

The very considerable increase in the number of Vessels employed in what may be termed local trade, or in voyages that either originate or terminate, at Hongkong, in addition to the great quantity of tonnage visiting the Port from all quarters of the World afford ample scope for the remunerative operations of Dock Companies, in addition to those which are already in existence.

Application has been made to Her Majesty's Government with reference to obtaining a site for the proposed Docks in the Colony, and the project has been favourably entertained, steps being in progress to facilitate this object, the necessary preliminary investigations as to the suitable character of the proposed site having been conducted and satisfactorily reported upon, by Mr. B. B. Rawling.

Liberal support has been promised to the undertaking which it is contemplated must necessarily prove a very remunerative one.

Further applications for Shares can till further notice be addressed to the Undersigned from whom forms of application and all particulars can be obtained.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, 17TH SEPTEMBER, 1864.

We must say that we entertain strong sympathies towards the 99th Regiment, whose into affairs are likely to lead to grief. Their conduct hitherto whilst in garrison here, has been so exemplary, creditable to the glorious service they belong,—whilst their spirited drills, their excellent musical, theatrical, and gymnastic performances, have contributed so much to the amusements of the colony, that they had become favorites with the community generally, and were viewed as an institution whose loss would be felt as a calamity. That so much well earned popularity should be thrown away by the indulgence of a few hours of frenzy, is indeed melancholy to contemplate. We still entertain the hope that the matter may yet be patched up, that our favorite regiment may redeem the confidence they have temporarily forfeited, and that their one wrong act may be consigned to oblivion.

The late misbehaviour of the 99th places the question of the demand for military contribution in quite a new light. It has already been agreed on all sides that the presence of a garrison here is not requisite for local purposes. We fear it may now be pleaded by the opponents of the impost, that the presence of the garrison is detrimental to the peace of the colony, and that its removal is desirable. If such a plea be urged it cannot fail to create great annoyance at the Horse Guards. The charge will be deemed a slur on the whole British army, detracting greatly from its supposed efficiency and organisation. The whole vengeance of the war department will be wreaked on the 99th regiment, who will be sent under a martinet to the most unhealthy station available.

We think it will be very foolish if the authorities of Hongkong should take this view of the case in the despatches they may write home. Suppose the whole garrison should be withdrawn and the security of the colony confided solely to the Police. There are European Police and Indian Police: a feud might arise between them and then we should be in a pretty mess. The exposure too would place our police in such unfavourable colors, that H. M. Government might object to them being left in sole charge.

Besides, we think the less the local authorities say on the subject the better. The original cause of the disturbance was the fact of three hundred unemployed European sailors being on the loose on shore in a destitute condition: a state of things unheard of in any other part of the world.

Still the conduct of the 99th cannot be palliated, nor defended for one moment. A disturbance occurred between these destitute Europeans and a number of Indian sailors. With this disturbance the men of the 99th had nothing whatever to do, nor do they appear to have mixed themselves up with it in the first instance in any manner. One of their comrades who was "lying about" in the vicinity, was killed by the Indians in an unprovoked inhuman manner.

There is the original casus belli, and we submit that at the very outset the men of the 99th are entirely in the wrong. The two Indians who murdered their comrade being captured and in the hands of the authorities, the 99th should have been satisfied. It is impossible that they could entertain any misgivings as to the desire of the civil authorities of this colony to do them the most ample justice. We can call to memory several cases, where soldiers have been treated with extraordinary indulgence by the judicial authorities, and they know well enough that a Hongkong jury would never deny them justice.

But they chose to take the law into their hands, to defy the rules of the service and the civil authorities. We make sure that they have been instigated to commit themselves in the manner they have done by some bad characters amongst the sailors: because the 99th have certainly espoused the quarrel of the European sailors, a number of whom were certainly lurking about the barracks during the days the late unlucky deeds occurred.

Now here the 99th were quite wrong again. In so far as the quarrel between the Europeans and Indians is concerned, the former were the original aggressors, as a number of them forcibly entered a Malay boarding house to wreak vengeance on the inmates, because Indian sailors are preferred for trading on this coast, to Europeans. This not of itself proves that there must be desperate characters amongst the unoccupied European sailors, who we doubt not have misled the soldiers.

The next step of the 99th was to wreak their vengeance on the Malay boarding houses in the vicinity of the spot where their comrade was murdered. This they accomplished, by sacking two of those establishments. Whilst thus occupied a picket from their own regiment approached the scene, and also a number of police—By some strange and unaccountable mismanagement, some black policemen fired upon and killed two of the soldiers. The feud then spread to all Indians whatever. sailors and police, and so bent were the soldiers on vengeance that a number of them escaped out of the barracks that night and made a stampede with the intention of killing every Indian constable they might fall in with.

One poor fellow they brutally murdered, their victim never having been near the scene of the disturbance several others they shamefully maltreated: innocent or guilty was all one to them so long as they could find victims with black skins. It was no doubt highly desirable that the Police authorities should detect the constables who fired on the soldiers, and so no doubt they would have done if the 99th had been quiet, but now when they have created such a feud, the police authorities will find it impossible to obtain evidence against the dastardly culprits.

Thus at every step have the 99th gone from bad to worse. The idea of soldiers breaking all bonds of discipline, and rushing through the public streets to kill wantonly policemen on duty simply because of the color of their skin, is monstrous. Why it reminds us of the outrages committed by the Russians in Poland, and really we cannot think of any other analogy. The disgrace to the British army becomes so great, not only from the violation of discipline, but also from the wantonness of the outrages committed, that should things take their course the stain will require a terrible atonement.

Let the men of the 99th leave their ringleaders and their evil advisors amongst the sailors to work out their own schemes, and fall to grief their own way—We sincerely trust to see the regiment return to the barracks shortly, with this rent in their colors well mended, and with the public confidence in them fully restored.

The Friend of China, no mean authority on such matters, asserts that the report of the Chung Wong's capture at Nanking was a Mandarin canard; that the great rebel leader was in command at Soochow, and that he now heads a large force in the province of Kiangsi, capable of defying the Imperial authorities.

There are several circumstances whereof we are cognizant, which induce the belief in our mind that our contemporary is right. We know that when the Chung Wong evacuated Soochow, he told the Mo Wong it was useless to oppose foreign artillery, and advised him to retire with him to the fastnesses of Kwangsi. This advice the Mo-Wong spurned, and the Chung Wong withdrew with all his force.

Whether he went to Hoochow then, or proceeded to Nankin, we can only conjecture. He certainly took no part in the campaign which ended in the capture of Chang-chow. We do not think he ever went near Nanking —he certainly was on bad terms with the Tien Wong, and it is most unlikely after leaving Soochow as he did, that he would run his head into a trap, as it was certain that Nanking must fall for at least two months before it was taken. His proceeding to Hoochow was carrying out his expressed resolution to retire into mountain fastnesses, and his retiring from Hoochow was in accordance with his expressed desire to avoid foreign artillery, for he evacuated just as Lee Futai arrived up with a number of siege guns.

Besides who could have made those sorties but the Chung Wong?

If our contemporary be correct, the intelligence is most disastrous to the Imperial cause. The Chung Wong will now retire before foreign artillery, causing the rebellion to be more damaging than heretofore, from his constant change of position. Again, should he keep near mountain fastnesses, artillery will be of little service against him.

We hear of rumors regarding the ambitious designs of Tseng-kwo-fan. Altogether the Celestial Empire is by no means in clover yet.

The late Fatal Affrays in Taipingshan.

Yesterday morning at half past eight the inquest on the body of Lonsdale into private 99th Regiment, was resumed at the Magistracy. Several witnesses were examined but very little evidence given tending to shew who was the man who fired the shots which killed the deceased. The inquiry was adjourned till Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The adjourned inquest on the body of the three men stabbed on Monday night was also held yesterday and further inquiry postponed.

A third inquiry was held on the body of the West Indian policeman Charles Crawford, killed at Peddar's Wharf on Wednesday—the third evening of the disturbance—and was also adjourned.

We shall give full particulars of the evidence taken in all these cases at their termination.

We are happy to hear that the other man stabbed on Monday night who has been since lying in the hospital in a very precarious condition, is now out of danger.

It is supposed that by moving the 99th Regiment to Kowloon further disturbance will be prevented. We hope such may be the case but we certainly are of opinion that the greatest precautions must still be taken to prevent a collision between the European and Asiatic seamen, which is likely to occur at any moment. The 99th Regiment we understand are under orders to leave for the North as soon as their relief, expected very shortly, arrives here.

The following notices are placarded over the Streets both in English and Chinese.

NOTICE.

Whereas a private in H. M. 99th Regiment, engaged in the recent riots in Lascar Row on the evening of the 13th, has been shot, and a soldier of the Regimental Piquet wounded, a reward of $150 will be given to any person who can give such information as may lead to the identification of the person or persons who fired the shots.

By Order,
WM. QUIN,
Captain Superintendent of Police.

REWARDS!!

Whereas on the evening of the 14th instant, Police Constable No. 333, CHARLES CRAWFORD, while in the execution of his duty at Peddar's Wharf, was wilfully murdered by some person or persons unknown:—

A FREE PARDON AND A REWARD OF FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

will be given to any person,—the actual Perpetrators of the Murder excepted,—who shall give such information as may lead to the apprehension and conviction of one or more of the Guilty Parties.

By Order,
WM. QUIN.
Captain Superintendent of Police.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

To the Editor of the "Daily Press."

DEAR SIR,—Knowing your desire to "ventilate" subjects of which you treat in your journal, in a spirit of fairness rather than of partisanship, I am sure you will be ready to give to the following incident the weight it deserves in your arguments regarding unemployed British seamen in Hongkong, and from it you and your readers may learn that it is not always the fault of the masters or the ships that colored seamen are engaged in preference to Europeans.

A few months ago I was walking on Queen's Road, near the clock tower, when my attention was attracted to a scene of violence which was being enacted by—I am ashamed to say—European, and I sadly fear British, sailors: five of these men were striking, kicking, and stamping on a sixth, who was stretched on the ground, covering his face and head with his hands and arms, in the endeavour to protect them from the boots of his assailants, while the blood was oozing between his fingers from his nose and mouth. A passer by, armed with a stick, rescued the victim, who at once retreated within the house at the door of which the assault took place, and the cowardly assailants walked away, vowing, with disgusting oaths, further vengeance. What was it that had offended those gallant specimens of civilized British tars of the nineteenth century? are these five men a part of the three hundred starving sailors of whom you write? If they are, I say they deserve to know what it is to want a substantial meal, for with that knowledge practically obtained, it is not likely that their victim would have suffered as he did for the horrible offence of "Shipping under wages."

Of course a sailor has as much right as any body else to demand the highest price he can get for his labor, but he cannot expect pay if he make his demands such as to lead to his own starvation, or if he stake his employment on the success of a foolish attempt to upset the natural laws of supply and demand.

And on the subject of the employment of colored seamen on the coast of China, is it not solely that the owners and captains get a better money's worth for their money by employing them? is it not very much for the same reason that your compositors, Mr. Editor, are not Englishmen? and in the present age can business men be expected to sacrifice their interests for a chimerical idea of patriotism? can you expect masters of coasting vessels, for the sake of this idea, to increase their portage bills, and double or treble their anxiety by having on board men who are so apt to get drunk in port, and to grumble at any interference with their watch and watch at sea? The remedy lies with the sailors themselves; whether they have the intelligence to apply the remedy, or whether they should be taught it by the moral influence of others, is a question that shall not now be intruded upon your notice by an

THE Scheme of a Local Bank for this Colony with Branches at the most important places in China, has been in contemplation for a very long period.

The local and foreign trade in Hongkong and at the open ports in China and Japan has increased so rapidly within the last few years that additional Banking facilities are felt to be required.

The Banks now in China being only branches of Corporations whose head quarters are in England or India, and which were formed chiefly with the view of carrying on exchange operations between those countries and China, are scarcely in a position to deal satisfactorily with the local trade which has become so much more extensive and varied than in former years.

This deficiency the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Company will supply, and will in fact assume the same position with relation to the Colony as the Presidency Banks in India, or the Banks of Australia in their respective localities.

The Establishment of a Mint in Hongkong, providing an adequate supply of proper currency, will render a local Banking medium essential to carry out its operations, and the almost certain disappearance of the existing Compradoric system (so far as money is concerned) will also ensure Banks becoming in course of time the exclusive medium for the transaction of the monetary operations connected with trade.

For the anticipated success of this enterprise there are therefore ample grounds; and the great prosperity which has attended the working of other local associations in China clearly shows that the largest profits are obtained by those Public Companies which possess an interested local body of Proprietors or Shareholders whose support naturally forms a chief element of remunerative success.

The Bank will commence operations simultaneously in Hongkong and Shanghai and as the importance of the business at the latter place must be very great, it is intended to establish a local Board of Directors there for more effectually meeting the views. As circumstances render it advisable the Bank will establish Branches at other places.

In the distribution of Shares Hongkong and Shanghai will equally participate. Shares will also be reserved for the other ports in China and Japan and for persons residing elsewhere, who are directly interested in the China Trade.

Applications for Shares must be addressed until further notice, to the Provisional Committee, care of
